

Bio-Resonance System Health System of the Future

Energy - Source of Life and Health Health and Healing through Pulsating Energy Resonance Therapy

Treatment with stimulating pulsating magnetic fields is a well-established form of medical therapy where energy is transferred to the organism by means of electro-magnetic signals.

Energy can be transferred to an organism much more effectively and comfortably with magnetic induction. Applying a Pulsating Magnetic Bio-Resonance System induces signals that correspond with the electrical activity of body's cells, nerves, muscle-fibres and blood vessels.

By stimulating the electrical activity of individual cells and thereby providing more energy, a number of positive physiological effects are possible, including;

Metabolism - increase in energy and improvement of digestion.

Circulation - increase in blood circulation, improvement in peripheral blood supply and reduction of haematoma and oedema.

Regeneration - enhanced wound and bone healing; increased energy levels and feeling of well-being.

The optimal time for a Bio-Resonance application will vary between different individuals. A longer treatment time is required for a person with a low energy level.

Duration

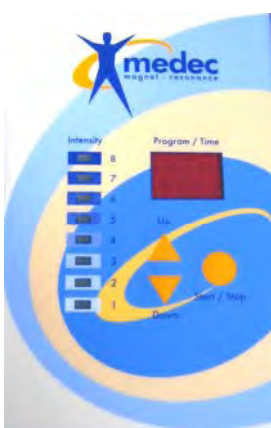

A ten (10) minute application is sufficient for most individuals to restore energy levels.

Frequency

The rate at which the individual body uses up energy will also determine how often (times per day) Bio-Resonance should be applied. For example, a sick person, being very low in energy or an athlete that spends a large amount of energy would need to re-charge two to three times per day to ensure an optimal amount of energy for his/her daily requirement.

The effects of Pulsating Magnetic Fields on humans have been researched internationally and there is no doubt today, that optimized Pulsating Magnetic Field Systems can be applied for therapeutic purposes.

Research started over 100 years ago and was intensified by space technology in the past 40 years. All scientists involved in this research confirm the following effects:

- Antiviral
- Pain relief
- Anti-inflammatory (Arthritis)
- Blood vessel relaxing
- Helps reducing high blood pressure
- Increases oxygen level
- antineuralgic (Reduces nerve pain)
- Sedative (Improves deep sleep)
- Helps to rebuild joints, cartilage and discs
- Prevents proliferation of abnormal or diseased cells (Cancer).

Most units being used in conventional medicine work with a very high magnetic field (thousands times the magnetic field of the Earth). These extreme high magnetic fields induce high alternating currents in the body. They are much too forceful and physiologically incorrect.

This system uses magnetic field strengths, which are 1/1000 to 1/1,000,000 of Earth's magnetic field, which is in correlation with the field strength of the body's organism (Käs, Pelka).

This system conforms to strict American and Russian limits for electro-magnetic radiation of 1 Micro-Tesla (National Council of Radiation Protection and Measurement (NCRP) USA and GOST, Russia).

Inducing body-identical signals by the control unit in form of alternating currents of max. 0.2 Millivolt at highest level 8.

The human heart produces 1.2 to 1.5 Millivolt. Treatment current is therefore far below the magnetic field of the human heart. Therefore it can be used by patients with pacemakers (Schlepper).

There is a choice of 20 Programs.

After 5 minutes of treatment there is a marked improvement in circulation.

It incorporates the 'Cancer-Frequency' according to Dr. W. Ludwig's research, which helps to eliminate cancer cells. It also incorporates a special frequency according to Dr. Hulda Clark, which destroys parasites.

All your family members and friends can benefit from this Wellness Equipment

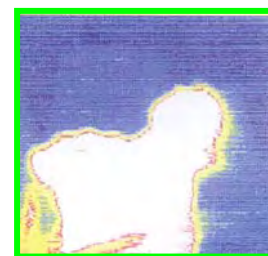

Improved circulation and elevated oxygen level during and after treatment

Poor circulation before treatment

Improvement after 5 min. treatment

Maximum circulation after 10 min. treatment

Clotting of red blood cells eliminated and viscosity of blood enhanced after just 15 minutes of treatment before treatment

15 min. after treatment

Relief from

Pain, Circulation problems, Arthritis, Osteoporosis, Joint pain, Muscle stiffness and much more.

During 15min. of treatment blood oxygen levels rise by up to 61%. Improved circulation and elevated oxygen levels are important for mental and physical performance and maintenance of health.

It is used in Europe in rehabilitation clinics, hospitals, in competitive and non-competitive sports and is applied by private individuals. It improves physical and mental performance and endurance and speeds up healing processes incl. fractures.

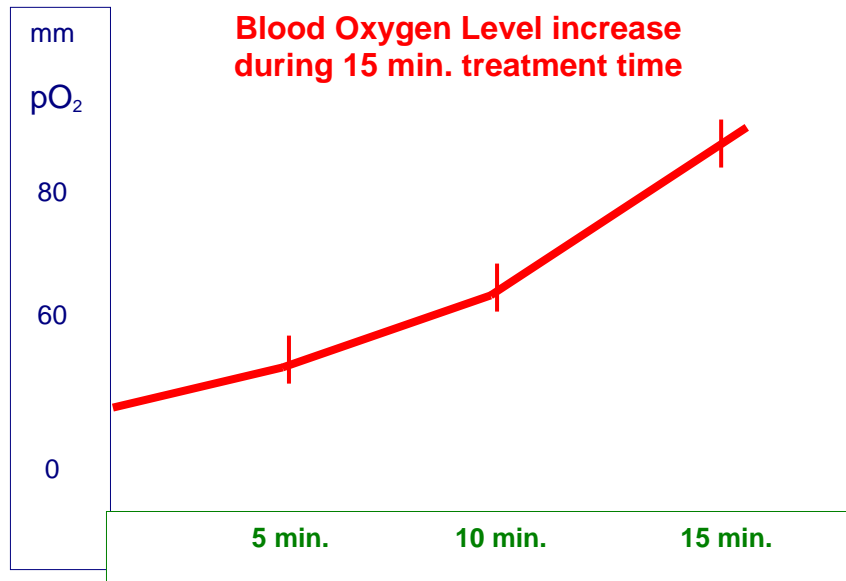

Application in Competitive and Non-competitive Sports

This system has been used by numerous athletes during training periods and before competitions. 10 minutes usage prior to any sports event or training session elevates the blood oxygen level and provides all cells with maximum oxygen and nutrition. Mental and physical performance is improved and maximum muscle activity is prompted. Micro-lesions, which occur during performances, heal faster and better when using this system. Healing periods are significantly reduced.

Everyone from the age of 30 should regularly use this form of home treatment (preferably twice per day) to maintain optimum health and to help prevent age-related diseases.

Everyone can benefit from this Pulsating Magnetic Field therapy in three major areas:

1. To alleviate stress, such as executive stress and jet lag, for relaxation and meditation, to increase potency, for cell regeneration, for building up muscles (athletes), to stimulate nerves ('mind machine') and for treatment of pets.
2. To prevent disease by fortifying the immune system
3. To treat many acute and chronic diseases, and also for the elimination of, or at least relief from, chronic pain
